

For EMR students who don't wear a uniform, it's essential to maintain a professional appearance while being practical and comfortable. Here are some guidelines for an appropriate dress code:

1. Tops

- Shirts: No low cut or sleeveless shirts.
- Layering: Consider wearing a lightweight jacket or a cardigan, especially for outdoor scenarios.

2. Bottoms

- Pants: Choose durable, comfortable pants like khakis, cargo pants, or dark jeans. Avoid ripped or overly casual styles.
- Shorts: If the climate permits, knee-length shorts in a neat style can be acceptable.

3. Footwear

- Shoes: Wear closed-toe shoes that provide support, like sneakers or sturdy boots. Avoid flip-flops or sandals.
- Comfort: Ensure shoes are comfortable for long periods of standing or walking.

4. Accessories

- Watches: A wristwatch can be useful for keeping track of time during practical sessions.

5. Hygiene and Grooming

- Personal Grooming: Maintain good personal hygiene and grooming. Hair should be clean and neatly styled.
- Fragrance: No fragrance to accommodate various sensitivities.
